Dan Heckel Joins Steel King as Stevens Point Manufacturing Plant Manager

Heckel bringing almost 30 years' experience in manufacturing and operations management to oversee day-to-day plant operations

Stevens Point, WI — Sept 12, 2024 — Steel King Industries, a leading manufacturer of storage rack and material handling products announced that Dan Heckel has been named Plant Manager of Steel King's Stevens Point manufacturing plant.

With almost 30 years' experience in manufacturing and operations management, Heckel will oversee day-to-day plant operations, driving efficiency, safety, and product quality for the company's Stevens Point manufacturing facility.

"What I really liked about Dan is his commitment to being directly involved on the shop floor," said Brian Pfannes, President of Steel King. "It's inspiring to work with leaders who have grit, want to dig in and get dirty to solve some of those tough steel fabrication challenges."

Heckel previously served as Plant Manager for Pointe Precision, Inc.

Heckel has a BS in Mechanical Engineering from UW-Platteville and an MS in Industrial Management and Automation from Northern Illinois University.

"We are thrilled to welcome Dan to the Steel King family," said Dave Scidmore, VP of Manufacturing at Steel King Industries. "His extensive experience and proven leadership will be instrumental as we continue to update and grow our Stevens Point operations. We are confident that Dan will play a pivotal role in ensuring that facility maintains its reputation for excellence."
